My interpretation, for what it's worth:

Single residential structure with four or fewer dwelling units demolished by owner, no NESHAPS apply.

Single residential structure with four or fewer dwelling units demolished by municipality, no NESHAPS apply.

Multiple residential structures demolished by single owner or municipality within 660 feet of each other NESHAPS apply.

Applicability is for both demolition and disposal.

DSHS administers the NESHAPS program in the State of Texas. They need to give the interpretation that is pretty clear on their clarification document.
